Re: 2020 April Monthly City Council Report

As global concern about the coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak grew, the Marco Island Police Department took many measures to keep those within the department safe while still giving superlative police service to the community. We closely monitored the situation and did our best to discourage false information from circulating. We created videos, a multitude of social media posts, and even hand delivered cover letters to restaurants, businesses, and rental properties explaining the evolving situation with Governor's Orders and County and City decisions. We were part of the county and city planning cells, taking proactive measures throughout to be sure that issues in reference to COVID-19 were being addressed but at the same time making sure the public safety concerns were at the forefront. Throughout the month, the department utilized virtual training to teach our staff about COVID-19 and personal protective measures. We also utilized this same platform to strengthen the skills and knowledge of the employees. Technology allowed us to continue our search for potential employees. Throughout the month, we conducted dozens of Zoom interviews in our quest to bring the department to full staffing with the right people.
